Welcome

Call to Worship

Leader: As the nights grow longer, colder, and still. Tonight, we remember, all across the world, in many forms and ways:

People: Winter comes in many forms.

Leader: Sometimes, it can be an attitude of the heart, a loss of hope for the future, suspicion toward others, a coldness within our spirits. Tonight, we remember, all across the world, in many forms and ways:

People: Winter comes in many forms.

Leader: Sometimes, it can be nation rising against nation, group attacking group, person against person. Tonight, we remember, all across the world, in many forms and ways:

People: Winter comes in many forms.

Leader: Tonight, we gather to lay claim to the promise in the humblest of times, in the most unlikely of places, in all cultures and languages:

People: The bright light of hope is born.

*Hymn 196

Come, Thou Long Expected Jesus

WESLEY

1. Come, thou long-expected Jesus, born to set thy people free; from our fears and sins release us, let us find our rest in thee. Israel's strength and consolation; hope of all the earth thou art; dear desire of every nation, joy of every longing heart.
2. Born thy people to deliver, born a child and yet a King, born to reign in us forever, now thy gracious kingdom bring. By thine own eternal spirit, rule in all our hearts alone; by thine all-sufficient merit, raise us to thy glorious throne.

First Lesson

Isaiah 9:2-7

² The people walking in darkness have seen a great light; on those living in the land of deep darkness a light has dawned.

³ You have enlarged the nation and increased their joy; they rejoice before you as people rejoice at the harvest, as warriors rejoice.

⁴ For as in the day of Midian's defeat, you have shattered the yoke that burdens them, the bar across their shoulders, the rod of their oppressor.

⁵ Every warrior's boot used in battle and every garment rolled in blood will be destined for burning, will be fuel for the fire.

⁶ For to us a child is born, to us a son is given, and the government will be on his shoulders. And he will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.

⁷ Of the greatness of his government and peace there will be no end. He will reign on David's throne and over his kingdom, establishing and upholding it with justice and righteousness from that time on and forever. The zeal of the LORD Almighty will accomplish this.

Second Lesson

Luke 1:26-38

²⁶ In the sixth month of Elizabeth's pregnancy, God sent the angel Gabriel to Nazareth, a town in Galilee, ²⁷ to a virgin pledged to be married to a man named Joseph, a descendant of David. The virgin's name was Mary. ²⁸ The angel went to her and said, "Greetings, you who are highly favored! The Lord is with you."

²⁹ Mary was greatly troubled at his words and wondered what kind of greeting this might be. ³⁰ But the angel said to her, "Do not be afraid, Mary; you have found favor with God. ³¹ You will conceive and give birth to a son, and you are to call him Jesus. ³² He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne of his father David, ³³ and he will reign over Jacob's descendants forever; his kingdom will never end."

³⁴ "How will this be," Mary asked the angel, "since I am a virgin?"

³⁵ The angel answered, "The Holy Spirit will come on you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. So the holy one to be born will be called the Son of God. ³⁶ Even Elizabeth your relative is going to have a child in her old age, and she who was said to be unable to conceive is in her sixth month. ³⁷ For no word from God will ever fail."

³⁸ "I am the Lord's servant," Mary answered. "May your word to me be fulfilled." Then the angel left her.

Anthem

What is This Lovely Fragrance?

Old French Carol
Arr. Healey Willan (Canadian)

What is this lovely fragrance wafting like to the scents of flow'rs in spring!
Shepherds, O tell us, whence such beauty, hear you not heav'nly carolling?
What is this lovely fragrance wafting like to the scents of flow'rs in spring.

What is this light so fair, so tender breaking upon our wond'ring eyes?
Never the morning star so radiant followed his course o'er eastern skies.
What is this light so fair, so tender, breaking upon our wond'ring eyes?

Shepherds, O haste with eager footsteps seek the saviour, born today.
Low at his feet we lay our treasure, heart's adoration, love for aye.
Shepherds, O haste with eager footsteps seek the saviour, born today.

Third Lesson

Luke 2:1-7

¹ In those days Caesar Augustus issued a decree that a census should be taken of the entire Roman world. ² (This was the first census that took place while Quirinius was governor of Syria.)

³ And everyone went to their own town to register.

⁴ So Joseph also went up from the town of Nazareth in Galilee to Judea, to Bethlehem the town of David, because he belonged to the house and line of David. ⁵ He went there to register with Mary, who was pledged to be married to him and was expecting a child. ⁶ While they were there, the time came for the baby to be born, ⁷ and she gave birth to her firstborn, a son. She wrapped him in cloths and placed him in a manger, because there was no guest room available for them.

*Hymn 219

What Child is This

William C. Dix

1. What Child is this, who, laid to rest, On Mary's lap is sleeping? Whom angels greet with anthems sweet, while shepherds watch are keeping? Refrain: This, this is Christ the King, whom shepherds guard and angels sing: Haste, haste to bring him laud, the babe, the son of Mary!
2. Why lies He in such mean estate, where ox and ass are feeding? Good Christian, fear, for sinners here the silent Word is pleading. Refrain
3. So bring him incense, gold, and myrrh; come, peasant, king to own him. The King of Kings salvation brings; let loving hearts enthrone him. Refrain

Fourth Lesson

⁸ Now in that same region there were shepherds living in the fields, keeping watch over their flock by night. ⁹ Then an angel of the Lord stood before them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terrified. ¹⁰ But the angel said to them, "Do not be afraid, for see, I am bringing you good news of great joy for all the people: ¹¹ to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is the Messiah, the Lord. ¹² This will be a sign for you: you will find a child wrapped in bands of cloth and lying in a manger." ¹³ And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying,

¹⁴ "Glory to God in the highest heaven, and on earth peace among those whom he favors!"

¹⁵ When the angels had left them and gone into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, "Let us go now to Bethlehem and see this thing that has taken place, which the Lord has made known to us." ¹⁶ So they went with haste and found Mary and Joseph and the child lying in the manger.

Anthem

Hark! The Herald Angels Sing

MENDELSSOHN
Arr. Dan Forrest

Hark! The herald angels sing, "Glory to the newborn King; peace on earth, and mercy mild, God and sinners reconciled!" Joyful, all ye nations rise, join the triumph of the skies; with th'angelic host proclaim, "Christ is born in Bethlehem!" Hark! the herald angels sing, "Glory to the newborn King!"

Christ, by highest heaven adored; Christ, the everlasting Lord; late in time behold him come, offspring of a virgin's womb. Veiled in flesh the Godhead see; hail th'Incarnate Deity, pleased with us in flesh to dwell, Jesus, our Emmanuel. Hark! The herald angels sing, "Glory to the newborn King!"

Hail the heaven-born Prince of Peace! Hail the Sun of Righteousness! Light and life to all he brings, risen with healing in his wings. Mild he lays his glory by, born that we no more may die, born to raise us from the earth, born to give us second birth. Hark! The herald angels sing, "Glory to the newborn King!"

John 1:1-5

Leader: In the beginning was the Word,

People: And the Word was with God and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God.

Leader: All things came into being through him.

People: Without him, not one thing came into being.

Leader: What has come into being in him was life,

People: And the life was the light of all people.

Leader: The light shines in the darkness,

People: And the darkness does not overcome it.

*Hymn 234

O Come All Ye Faithful

WADE

- O come, all ye faithful, joyful and triumphant, O come ye, O come ye, to Bethlehem. Come and behold him, born the King of angels; O come, let us adore him, O come, let us adore him, O come, let us adore him, Christ the Lord.
- True God of true God, Light from Light Eternal, lo, he shuns not the Virgin's womb; Son of the Father, begotten, not created; O come, let us adore him, O come, let us adore him, O come, let us adore him, Christ the Lord.
- Sing, choir of angels, sing in exultation; O sing, all ye citizens of heaven above! Glory to God, all glory in the highest; O come, let us adore him, O come, let us adore him, O come, let us adore him, Christ the Lord.

Prayers of the People

Leader: O God of every season, in the stillness of this night, in the coldness of winter, at all times and places, we celebrate your life in the midst of our lives. Tonight, we pray that your love will melt the coldness of our hearts.

*The people should stand as they are able

People: Lord, hear our prayer.

Leader: O God of every season, long ago, you went on a fearful journey, traveled a lonely road, in the womb of a teenage mother, to be born into a world that had grown cold to your ways. Renew our sense of the sacred, and give us the wisdom to treat one another with the warmth of your love

People: Lord, hear our prayer.

Leader: O God of every season, time, and place. You were born surrounded by the poor, the animals, people from a foreign land, and shepherds working in the night's shadows. Please help us to keep our eyes on those forgotten and tossed aside. Give us hearts of compassion.

People: Lord, hear our prayer.

Leader: O God of every season, in all times and places, long ago, after you were born, you were forced to flee for your safety. Tonight, we pray for those who fear for their lives, struggle with their faith, and long to find their way home. Make us a hospitable people whose thoughts and prayers become justice and action

People: Lord, hear our prayer. Amen.

*Hymn 239

Silent Night

STILLE NACHT

1. Silent night, holy night, all is calm, all is bright round yon virgin mother and child. Holy infant, so tender and mild, sleep in heavenly peace, sleep in heavenly peace.
2. Silent night, holy night, shepherds quake at the sight; glories stream from heaven afar, heavenly hosts sing Alleluia! Christ the Savior is born, Christ the Savior is born!
3. Silent night, holy night, Son of God, love's pure light; radiant beams from thy holy face with the dawn of redeeming grace, Jesus, Lord, at thy birth, Jesus, Lord, at thy birth.
4. Silent night, holy night, wondrous star, lend thy light; with the angels let us sing, Alleluia to our King; Christ the Savior is born, Christ the Savior is born!

As we sing Silent Night, the light from the Christ candle will be passed throughout the congregation.

Lighted candles are held upright. Unlighted candles are tipped to the lighted candle.

Following the Responsive Scripture, please extinguish your candle.

After the service, candles may be placed in the baskets as you exit the sanctuary.

VESPERS AT UE

In 1948, a campus committee consisting of ministers and college representatives determined that vespers would make a constructive contribution to both the college and the community. The following fall, Evansville College inaugurated a series of four vespers scheduled throughout the school year. The services were held at 4:00 p.m. on Sunday afternoons in the college auditorium. Students, faculty members, and the public were invited to attend, and a special effort was made to give them wide publicity. An attempt was made to have an outstanding speaker for each of the services, and a choir was formed by the college music department especially for the occasions. Since religious and spiritual values have symbolized the soul of our campus since the University was chartered, it is fitting that the tradition of vespers services continue during the high holy season of Advent.

The readings and prayers in the liturgy this evening serve as a theological narrative, which will take us from the prophetic announcement of the coming Messiah in the Old Testament to the Magnificat in Luke's Gospel and the birth of the Christ child in the New Testament. Finally, we will arrive at the threshold of Advent and the eschatological proclamation of the return of Christ. The liturgy will be a celebration of the assurance that Christ will usher in a new era where all will be invited to the table and darkness will be no more.

Chanticleer

The GRAMMY® Award-winning vocal ensemble Chanticleer is known around the world as “an orchestra of voices” for its wide-ranging repertoire and dazzling virtuosity. Founded in San Francisco in 1978 by singer and musicologist Louis Botto, Chanticleer quickly took its place as one of the most prolific recording and touring ensembles in the world, selling over one million recordings and performing thousands of live concerts to audiences around the world.

Chanticleer’s repertoire is rooted in the renaissance and has continued to expand to include a wide range of classical, gospel, jazz, popular music, and a deep commitment to the commissioning of new compositions and arrangements. The ensemble has committed much of its vast recording catalog to these commissions, garnering GRAMMY® Awards for its recording of Sir John Tavener’s “Lamentations & Praises” and the ambitious collection of commissioned works entitled “Colors of Love”. Chanticleer is the recipient of the Dale Warland/Chorus America Commissioning Award and the ASCAP/Chorus America Award for Adventurous Programming. Music Director Emeritus Joseph H. Jennings received the Brazeal Wayne Dennard Award for his contribution to the African American choral tradition during his tenure with Chanticleer.

Named for the “clear-singing” rooster in Geoffrey Chaucer’s Canterbury Tales, Chanticleer continues to maintain ambitious programming in its hometown of San Francisco, including a large education and outreach program and an annual concert series that includes its legendary holiday tradition “A Chanticleer Christmas”.

Chanticleer, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit corporation, is the current recipient of major grants from The William & Flora Hewlett Foundation, The Bernard Osher Foundation, The Bob Ross Foundation, Grants for the Arts/San Francisco Hotel Tax Fund, and The National Endowment for the Arts. Chanticleer’s activities as a nonprofit corporation are supported by its administrative staff and Board of Trustees.

Program Notes

By Tim Keeler

A river gurgles. Wind rushes. Branches creak. Snowflakes faintly fall. Every piece of the world has a sound. But if you listen really closely, you might also find that each of these pieces has a voice. In Music of a Silent World, Chanticleer sings the songs of the natural world and gives a voice to the otherwise voiceless rocks, stones, trees, and rivers that share this planet with us. While inhabiting those voices, we also explore what the world might be like without them.

The program centers around a new arrangement of Majel Connery's song cycle, The Rivers are our Brothers, which was written in, around, and about the Sierra Nevada mountains. Each movement inhabits a different part of the Sierra's natural beauty: from its high peaks to its forests, rocks, rivers, and snowbanks. "The goal," she says, "is to give nature a voice. I wanted to allow these vibrant things to speak on their own behalf." By giving agency to these inanimate parts of our world, we are compelled to empathize with otherwise silent beings, uncovering their unique characters, personalities, and motivations. Connery describes herself as a "vocalist, composer, and roving musicologist making electro-art-dream-pop with repressed classical influences." She tours frequently with her art-rock band, Sky Creature, and is the host and producer of A Music of Their Own, a podcast exploring female experiences in the music industry (CapRadio/NPR).

Woven around her song cycle and in dialogue with those vibrant parts of the natural world are works from across the choral spectrum, including selections from Max Reger's Zehn Gesänge für Männerchor (Opus 83). Written in 1904 for the Vienna Men's Choral Society, much of this collection features early German Romantic poetry about nature, which Reger sets with his typically dense, late romantic harmony, where chromatic voice leading is the standard instead of the exception ("Abendständchen," "Abschied," and "Hochsommernacht"). Paired with these harmonically complex movements are simple songs in four-part harmony that harken back to the early days of German männerchor singing. "Lieblich hat sich gesellet" is a lilting love song, and "Eine ganz neue Schelmweys" is a lively drinking song. Admittedly, these two movements also have their fair share of 20th-century harmonic twists and turns, but their sentiment is one of nostalgia.

The concert begins by placing us and our natural world in a larger context. Kurt Weill's "Lost in the Stars" comes from his musical adaptation of Alan Paton's novel, Cry, the Beloved Country. Set in the years immediately before apartheid in South Africa, Paton's black protagonist, Stephen Kumalo, sings "Lost in the Stars" when confronting a crisis of faith in the face of an unjust society. His feelings of helplessness resonate today, as we continue to grapple with our respect for each other and for the natural world. Gene Puerling arranged "Lost in the Stars" for Chanticleer in 1995.

Our own bass-baritone, Jared Graveley, arranged the Hoagy Carmichael tune, "Stardust." Its nostalgic tone sets the stage for the second set of the program, which explores feelings and sentiments that might exist if we were to lose our connection with the natural world. "Innsbruck, ich muss dich lassen," by the Netherlandish Renaissance composer Heinrich Isaac, is a lament on leaving the city of Innsbruck, Austria. Nestled among the Alps and overlooking the powerful Inn river, Innsbruck was for Isaac a symbol of stability and a beautiful home. In this program, Innsbruck represents an idyllic former world untouched by concerns of a changing climate. Due to his talent and popularity, Isaac was one of the first musicians in history to be called a "composer" by his contemporaries. His music remained popular into the 20th century, with many German Romantics considering him a kind of national and musical ancestor of J.S. Bach. Isaac wrote prolifically in many languages, genres, and styles, but his largest undertaking by far was the Choralis Constantinus, a collection of over 375 settings of Mass propers in three volumes. "Cibavit eos," an introit for the Feast of Corpus Christi, comes from this collection.

Stephen Sondheim wrote "I remember" for 1966 made-for-TV musical, Evening Primrose, which tells the story of a small community hiding from the outside world and living in a department store. "I remember" is sung by a young woman, Ella, who has not seen the sky for 13 years. Ella's aching text, "I remember sky, it was blue as ink, or at least I think..." takes on new meaning for those of us around the country who are all too familiar with smoke and haze and orange skies, or who find themselves spending most of their time indoors because of extreme heat. The third set begins our exploration of Connery's song cycle and features a new work by our composer-in-residence, Ayanna Woods. "I miss you like I miss the trees" takes its text from Franny Choi's 2019 poem, "How to Let Go of the World." It is an intense exploration of climate grief, and wrestles with feelings of helplessness in the face of powers beyond our control. Ayanna Woods is a GRAMMY nominated performer, composer, and bandleader from Chicago. Her music explores the spaces between acoustic and electronic, traditional and esoteric, wildly improvisational and mathematically rigorous. "I miss you like I miss the trees" is her third composition for Chanticleer.

The remainder of the program contains some favorite arrangements from our library, including Vince Peterson's version of "Both Sides Now" by Joni Mitchell, which we recorded on our most recent album, On a Clear Day. New for this season are three arrangements by current members of the group: "Little April Shower," from Bambi, arranged by alto Adam Brett Ward, "The Weather," by Lawrence, arranged by tenor Vineel Garisa Mahal, and "Wildflowers," by Tom Petty, arranged by music director Tim Keeler.

Texts and Translations

Lost in the Stars

Kurt Weill, arr. Gene Puerling

My Lord, what a mornin' when the stars begin to fall...

Before the Lord God made the sea and the land
He held all the stars in the palm of His hand,
And they ran through His fingers like grains of sand,
And one little star fell alone.

Then the Lord God hunted through the wide night air
For the little dark star on the wind down there
And He stated and promised He'd take special care
So it wouldn't get lost no more.

Now a man don't mind if the stars get dim
And the clouds blow over and darken him
So long as the Lord God's watchin' over him
Keepin' track how it all goes on.

But I've been walkin' through the night and the day
'Til my eyes get weary and my head turns gray
And sometimes it seems maybe God's gone away
Forgetting the promise that we heard Him say

And we're lost out here in the stars,
Little stars, big stars, blowin' thru the night.

Text by Maxwell Anderson (1888 - 1959)

Abendständchen (Evening Serenade)

Max Reger

Hör', es klagt die Flöte wieder,
und die kühlen Brunnen rauschen,
golden weh'n die Töne nieder,
stille, laß uns lauschen!

Listen, the flute laments again
and the cool fountains murmur,
Golden, the sounds waft down,
Be still, let us listen in silence!

Holdes Bitten, mild Verlangen,
wie es süß zum Herzen spricht!
Durch die Nacht, die uns umfängen,
blickt zu uns der Töne Licht.

Gentle longing, mild supplication,
How sweetly it speaks to the heart!
Through the night that surrounds us,
The light of music shines upon us.

Text by Clemens Brentano (1778 - 1842)

Stardust

Hoagy Carmichael, arr. Jared Graveley

And now the purple dusk of twilight time
Steals across the meadows of my heart.
High up in the sky the little stars climb
Always reminding me that we're apart.
You wander down the lane and far away
Leaving me a song that will not die.
Love is now the stardust of yesterday,
The music of the years gone by.

Sometimes I wonder why I spend
My lonely nights
Dreaming of a song.
That melody haunts my reverie,
And I am once again with you.
When our love was new, and each kiss an inspiration;
Oh! But that was long ago, and now my consolation
Is in the stardust of a song.

Beside the garden wall, when stars are bright,
You are in my arms.
The nightingale tells his fairy tale
Of paradise where roses bloom;
Though I dream in vain, in my heart it will remain:
My stardust melody,
The memory of love's refrain.

Text by Mitchell Parish (1900 - 1993)

Cibavit eos

Heinrich Isaac

Cibavit eos ex adipe frumenti, alleluia.	He fed them from the abundance of the wheat, alleluia.
Et de petra melle saturavit eos, alleluia.	And sated them with honey from the rock, alleluia.
Exultate Deo adiutori nostro, Jubilare Deo Jacob.	Rejoice in God our helper, sing for joy to the God of Jacob.

Psalm 81:1,16

Innsbruck, ich muss dich lassen

Isaac

Innsbruck, ich muss dich lassen, ich fahr dahin mein Straßen im fremde Land dahin. Mein Freud ist mir genommen, die ich nit weiß bekommen, wo ich im Elend bin.	Innsbruck, I must leave you For I am traveling the road to a foreign land. There, deprived of my joy and not knowing how to get it back, I will be in misery.
Groß Leid muss ich jetzt tragen, das ich allein tu klagen dem liebsten Buhlen mein Ach Lieb, nun lass mich Armen im Herzen dein Erbarmen daß ich muss von dannen sein.	I am burdened with great sorrow which I can shed only through the one dearest to me. O my love, leave me not bereft of compassion in your heart that I must part from you.
Mein Trost ob allen Weiben, Dein tu ich ewig bleiben stets treu, der Ehren fromm. nun muss dich Gott bewahren, in aller Tugend sparen, bis daß ich wieder komm!	My comfort above all other women, I remain yours forever, always faithful, in true honor. And now, may God protect you, safe in virtue, until I return.

Lieblich hat sich gesellet (Lovingly has my heart been joined)
Max Reger

Lieblich hat sich gesellet mein Herz in kurzer Frist zu einer, die mir gefällt, Gott weiß wohl, wer sie ist. Sie liebet mich ganz inniglich, die Allerliebste mein, in Treuen ich sie mein.	Lovingly has my heart been joined in just a short span of time with one who pleases me, God knows well who she is. She loves me deeply, my dearest one, faithfully, she is mine.
---	--

Wohl für des Maien Blüte hab ich sie auserkor'n, sie erfreut mir mein Gemüte. Treu' Minne hab' ich g'schworn, den will ich halten ewiglich, mit Willen untertan, dieweil ich's Leben han.	The blossoms of May I have chosen well for her, so much she pleases my soul. I have sworn my true fidelity, I will hold her in constancy, and be her willing subject while I have my life.

I Remember

Stephen Sondheim, arr. Joseph Jennings

I remember sky,
It was blue as ink.
Or at least I think
I remember sky.
I remember snow,
Soft as feathers,
Sharp as thumbtacks,
Coming down like lint,
And it made you squint
When the wind would blow.
And ice, like vinyl,
On the streets,
Cold as silver,
White as sheets,
Rain, like strings,
And changing things,
Like leaves.
I remember leaves,
Green as spearmint,
Crisp as paper,
I remember trees,

Bare as coat racks,
Spread like broken umbrellas...
And parks and bridges,
Ponds and zoos,
Ruddy faces,
Muddy shoes,
Light and noise and
Bees and boys
And days.
I remember days,
Or at least I try,
But as years go by,
They're sort of haze.
And the bluest ink
Isn't really sky,
And at times I think
I would gladly die
For a day of sky.

Text by Stephen Sondheim

I Am a Tree from The Rivers are our Brothers
Majel Connery, arr. Majel Connery and Doug Balliett

I eat the sun, I drink the light.
I am a conjurer. My sugar is self-sacrifice.
I cut my arm to feed my leg.
I am waiting for nothing, needing for nothing.
I am an army, I am the mother of them all,
I can regenerate.
I clone a nation from my foot.
I am a country of one.
I am a family; I am a household.
I have skin and I can bruise and I can bleed, and I can cry.
I make my friends. We are connected.
We are inseparable. We grow intertwined.
We share the sky, we are agreed.
I can give, and I can care for.
I've got other mouths to feed.
They need me.
I am a tree. I know secrets that you will never know.
I channel lightning. I see in color.
I make the air you need to grow.
I'm not a man, I'm not a woman. Surprisingly I'm both.
And when I know that I must die

I put the best of me back into the ground.
I stretch for miles and miles and miles.
And let's not forget my leaves:
Clouds of green.

Text by Majel Connery

I miss you like I miss the trees

Ayanna Woods (b. 1992)

I don't know how to do it: hold their faces in my hands and tell them what's waiting.

Holding my love's face in my hands, I tell him I miss him. I say, I miss you like I miss the trees.

By this I mean, Look! The trees are here! Everyone's outside, darling: green in my hands...everyone's waiting for us.

This text is excerpted from Franny Choi's poem, "How to Let Go of the World"

Abschied (Farewell)

Max Reger

Abendlich schon rauscht der Wald
Aus den tiefen Gründen,
Droben wird der Herr nun bald
An die Sterne zünden.
Wie so stille in den Schlünden,
Abendlich nur rauscht der Wald.

At evening, the forest already murmurs
from the deepest valleys,
From on high, God will soon
Rekindle the stars.
How softly in the valleys
Evening murmurs through the forest.

Alles geht zu seiner Ruh.
Wald und Welt versausen,
Schaudernd hört der Wanderer zu,
Sehnt sich recht nach Hause.
Hier in Waldes grüner Klause,
Herz, geh endlich auch zur Ruh.

All goes to its rest,
Forest and world cease to stir,
Awestruck, the wanderer listens
Yearning to return home.
Here, in this wooded valley,
Heart, go finally also to rest.

Text by Joseph von Eichendorff (1788 - 1857)

Willow Weep for Me

Ann Ronell, arr. Joseph Jennings

Willow, weep for me, willow, weep for me.
Bend your branches green along the stream that runs to sea.
Listen to my plea, listen willow and weep for me.

Whisper to the wind and say that love has sinned,
To leave my heart a-breaking and making a moan,
Murmur to the night to hide her starry light.
So none will find me sighing and crying all alone.

Weeping willow tree, weep in sympathy.
Bend your branches down along the ground.
Cover me when the shadows fall,
Bend, oh willow, and weep for me.

Text by Ann Ronell

I Am a River from The Rivers are our Brothers
Majel Connery, arr. Connery and Balliett

Gone! My lover's dream, lovely summer dream,
Gone and left me here to weeping tears into the stream
Sad as I can be, hear me willow and weep for me.

I am a river. I am a world.
I am the distance, I am a system, I am the source.
I start my life in the ice.
With a little warmth, and a little sun,
I will travel miles.
I am a danger, I'm raging.
I am refreshment, I am a rush.
I am a sculptor, I am persuasion,
And I run. And I run! And how I run!
I am a river, I am a mother.
I give an arm, a foot, a tooth, a tongue.
I give a rib, a mouth, a hand, a lung!
When the time is right,
A sharp edge becomes skin-smooth.
When the time is right,
I change my body. I rise, and I rise!

Text by Majel Connery

Washing of the Water

Peter Gabriel, arr. Mason Bates

River, river, carry me on
Living river, carry me on
River, river, carry me on
To the place where I come from.
So deep, so wide, will you take me on your back for a ride
If I should fall, would you swallow me deep inside
River, show me how to float, I feel like I'm sinking down
Thought that I could get along
But here in this water, my feet won't touch the ground
I need something to turn myself around
Going away, away toward the sea
River deep, can you lift up and carry me
Oh roll on through the heartland
'Til the sun has left the sky
River, river, carry me high
'Til the washing of the water, make it all alright
Let your waters reach me, like she reached me tonight
Letting go, it's so hard, the way it hurts now
To get this love untied
So tough to stay with this thing, 'cause if I follow through
I face what I denied
I'll get those hooks out of me
And I'll take out the hooks that I sunk deep in your side
Kill that fear of emptiness, that loneliness I hide
River, oh river, river running deep
Bring me something that will let me get to sleep
In the washing of the water will you take it all away
Bring me something to take this pain away.

Text by Peter Gabriel

I Am the Air from The Rivers are our Brothers

Majel Connery, arr. Connery and Balliett

I am the air, I am everywhere
I am inside you, behind you, before you
I'm indivisible. Just try to find me.
I am uncountable.
I bring rain upon my shoulder,
I bring fire in my hand.
I tell the trees just how to blow,
I tell the storm to land.

The winds are my children,
 they do the changing work.
 They scatter seeds and bend the trees,
 and make the leaves to fall
 North, South, East, West,
 They bear the bees along
 They guide the birds,
 And steal the words of those who go before them.
 I am the air, I am everywhere
 I am the king of the weather.
 I am tornado, I'm hurricane,
 I am the gale, I am the thunder
 I always speak my mind

Hochsommernacht (Midsummer Night)

Max Reger

Stille ruht die weite Welt, Schlummer füllt des Mondes Horn, Das der Herr in Händen hält.	The vast world rests in silence, slumber fills the Moon's Horn, that the Lord holds in His hands.
Nur am Berge rauscht der Born— Zu der Ernte Hut bestellt, Wallen Engel durch das Korn.	Only the fountain murmurs on the mountain: called to guard the harvest, angels wafting over the wheat.

Eine ganz neue Schelmweys (A Completely New Rogues' Tune)

Max Reger

Wir Schelmben sind ein feinen Hauff, da kann kein Herrgott wider auf. Die Welt ist voll von unsern Preiß, seit Adam stahl im Paradeys.	We rogues are a fine crowd, No Lord God can control us; The world is full of our praise, Since Adam stole in paradise.
Uns bleibt kein geldt in unsern Sack, Wir sind ein fürnemb Lumpenpack. Wir han das Allergrößt Gefolg, kein fuerst vnd Hertzog hat ein solch.	There's no money left in our sack, We are a noble pack of rogues, We have the biggest following No prince and duke has such a one.

Zu nie keyn Diensten taugen Wir als für dem Edlen Malwesier.
Dem tun wir fröhnden und nit faul:
ein jede Flaschen findt jr maul.

We are no use for any service
Except for the noble Malwesier.
For it we are never lazy in serving:
Every bottle finds its mouth.

Wir han nit weib, wir han nit Kindt,
Wir sind die rechten Sausewind.
Und läßt uns eine Dirn nit ein,
die ander wird so süßer sein!

We have no wife, we have no child,
We are the real whirlwinds.
And if a girl does not let us in,
The others will be all the sweeter!

Wir schieren umb kein Pfaff uns nit,
Wir han unß Eignen Segen mit.
Und pfeifen wir am letzten loch:
der Teuffel nimpt in Gnad uns doch!

We don't bother with any priest,
We have our own blessings with us.
And when we're on our last legs:
The Devil will still take us in his grace!

Text by Richard Dehmel (1863 - 1920)

I Am a Cloud from The Rivers are our Brothers
Connery, arr. Connery and Balliett

I am a cloud. I am upside down.
I am together, I am apart.
Upon the blue sky, now.
I spin around the world.
I change a thousand miles a minute
I am just born, and I'm disappearing.
I'm like the waves in the sky.
I'm a reflecting pool.
I mirror every ripple far below me.
I am an answer, I am surprising,
and I only take dictation from the wind.
I am a cloud, you do the work:
Just tell me what to be.
I am a thousand shapes upon the palette of the sky
I am a bird, I am a ship, I am a tree.
I am the music! I'm getting louder now.
I'm the original art form etched upon a blank slate.
I am the earth-shattering image of a face up in the sky,
I am the untold story of the beginning of time.
I'm the original conversation, and an ongoing negotiation.
I am purposeful obscurity, I'm spectacular multiplication.
I'm the universal symphony, and the centuries in reverse,
I'm the singular revelation of articulate matter,
I am the untrained genius of the childlike mind,
I am the waves in the sea!
I am disappearing.

Text by Majel Connery

Both Sides Now

Joni Mitchell, arr. Vince Peterson

Rows and flows of angel hair
And ice cream castles in the air
And feather canyons everywhere.
I've looked at clouds that way.
But now they only block the sun.
They rain and they snow on everyone.
So many things I would have done
but clouds got in my way.
I've looked at clouds from both sides now,
from up and down and still somehow
it's cloud illusions I recall.
I really don't know clouds at all.

Moons and Junes and ferris wheels,
the dizzy dancing way that you feel,
as ev'ry fairy tale comes real,
I've looked at love that way.
But now it's just another show.
And you leave 'em laughing when you go.
And if you care, don't let them know.
Don't give yourself away.
I've looked at love from both sides now,
From give and take and still somehow,
It's love's illusions that I recall.
I really don't know love at all.

Tears and fears and feelin' proud,
to say "I love you" right out loud,
dreams and schemes and circus crowds,
I've looked at life that way.
But now old friends are acting strange.
They shake their heads, they say I've changed somethin's lost, and somethin's gained in living every day.
I've looked at life from both sides now,
from win and lose and still somehow
it's life's illusions I recall.
I really don't know life,
I really don't know life at all.

Text by Joni Mitchell

I Am Snow from The Rivers are our Brothers
Majel Connery, arr. Connery and Balliett

I start life as a vapor.
My heart is made of sand.
My pattern is impossible.
I'm a diagram, one hundred hands.
I live among the dancers.
We fall but we don't die.
Together we're destructive,
Intensifying white.
Total noise, and total silence.
We drown the light, we drown the life!
A crystal. A diamond in the sky.
I am a wonder. I am the music of a silent world.

Text by Majel Connery

Shenandoah

Traditional, arr. Marshall Bartholomew and James Erb

O Shenandoah, I long to see you
And hear your rolling river,
O Shenandoah, I long to see you
'way, we're bound away
Across the wide Missouri.

I long to see your smiling valley
And hear your rolling river,
I long to see your smiling valley
'way, we're bound away
Across the wide Missouri.

'Tis seven long years since last I see you
And hear your rolling river
'Tis seven long years since last I see you
'way, we're bound away
Across the wide Missouri.

O Shenandoah, I long to see you,
And hear your rolling river
O Shenandoah, I long to see you,
'way, we're bound away
Across the wide Missouri.

Little April Shower

Frank Churchill (1901 - 1942), arr. Adam Brett Ward

Drip, drip, drop little April shower
Beating a tune as you fall all around.
Drip, drip, drop little April shower
What can compare with your beautiful sound?

Drip, drip, drop, when the sky is cloudy
Your pretty music can brighten the day.
Drip, drip, drop, when the sky is cloudy
You come along with a song right away.
(come with your beautiful music...)

Drip, drip, drop little April shower
Beating a tune as you fall all around.
Drip, drip, drop little April shower
What can compare with your beautiful sound?

Drip, drip, drop, when the sky is cloudy
You come along with your pretty little song.
Drip, drip, drop, when the sky is cloudy
You come along with your pretty little song.

Gay little rondelay, song of the rainy day,
How I love to hear you patter, pretty little pitter-patter,
Helter-skelter when you pelter,
Troubles always seem to scatter!

Text by Larry Morey (1905 - 1971)

The Weather

Clyde Lawrence, Gracie Lawrence, Jonathan David Bellion, Jonathan Koh,
Jordan Cohen, arr. Vineel Garisa Mahal

I won't talk about the weather,
Not with you, we're not together;
'Cause even when the sky is gray, I'm feeling blue,
And though the winds are always changing
And the clouds are rearranging,
Part of me will always be in love with you.

There's a fire in L.A.,
And since you moved there back in May
I wonder, should I call to see if you're alright?
You're a million miles away,
But I still think of you each day,
And hope the weather doesn't keep you cold at night.

So I won't talk about the weather
No, I won't talk about the weather
I won't talk about the weather
Not with you, we're not together
'Cause even when the sky is gray, I'm feeling blue
And though the winds are always changing
And the clouds are rearranging
A part of me will always be in love with you.

Aakaasa deseana aashaad'ha maasanaa
Meriseti oh meghama,
Virahamo dhaahamo vidaleni mohamo
Vinipinchu naa cheliki meghasandhesam...

[In the sky country, oh flashing cloud,
In the rainy season,
Please give this message to the love of my life,
That I am miserable, lost, and lonely without her...]

So I won't talk about the weather
No, I won't talk about the weather
I won't talk about the weather
Not with you, we're not together
And it's hard to say if we will ever be
But I'll admit my greatest fear
Is that the air will never clear
So I just wish that we could talk like you and me.

No, I won't talk about the weather
Not with you, we're not together
But I wonder if we're ever really through
'Cause if we're talking about whether
You and I should be together
Oh, I know I'll always be in love with you
Oh, yes I know I'll always be in love with you.

Wildflowers

Tom Petty (b. 1950), arr. Tim Keeler

You belong among the wildflowers,
You belong in a boat out at sea
Sail away, kill off the hours
You belong somewhere you feel free.

Run away, find you a lover
Go away somewhere all bright and new
I have seen no other
Who compares with you.

You belong among the wildflowers,
You belong in a boat out at sea.
You belong with your love on your arm,
You belong somewhere you feel free.

Run away, go find a lover
Run away, let your heart be your guide
You deserve deepest of cover
You belong in that home by and by.

You belong among the wildflowers
You belong somewhere close to me
Far away from your trouble and worry
You belong somewhere you feel free
You belong somewhere you feel free.

Text by Tom Petty

Blue Skies

Irving Berlin, arr. Joseph Jennings

Blue skies smilin' at me
Nothin' but blue skies do i see.
Bluebirds singing a song
Nothin' but bluebirds all day long.
Never saw the sun shining so bright
Never saw things going oh so right.
Noticing the days hurrying by
When you're in love, my how they fly...
Blue days, all of them gone
Nothing but blue skies from now on.

Text by Irving Berlin

Somebody to Love

Freddie Mercury, arr. Vince Peterson

Can anybody find me somebody to love?
Each morning I get up, I die a little,
Can't barely stand on my feet.
Take a look in the mirror and cry,
Lord what you're doing to me.
I've spent all of my years believing you,
But I just can't get no relief, Lord!
Can anybody find me somebody to love?

I work hard every day of my life!
I work till I ache my bones!
At the end of the day,
I take home my hard earned pay all on my own.
I get down on my knees and I start to pray,
And the tears run down from my eyes, Oh!
Somebody find me somebody to love!

Everyday! I try and I try and I try,
But everyone wants to put me down,
They say I'm goin' crazy.
They say I've got water in my brain,
Got no common sense,
I got nobody left to believe.

Got no feel, I got no rhythm,
I just keep losing my beat.
I'm OK, I'm alright,
Ain't gonna face no defeat.
I just gotta get out of this prison cell,
One day I'm gonna be free, Lord!

Find me somebody to love,
Can anybody find me somebody to love?

Program Notes

Taken from Maurice Ravel's suite for solo piano, Le Tombeau de Couperin (1914-1917), the sprightly "Rigaudon" combines the charm of a 17th-century French dance with the color and brilliance of modern instruments. The agility and evocative character in this work translates well to other instrumental colors, and it is no surprise Ravel later chose to arrange the "Rigaudon" and several other movements from the piano suite for orchestra. In this arrangement by Greg Danner, the violin and horn augment the instrumental colors of the piano while retaining the pianistic virtuosity of Ravel's original composition. The full sound of the opening tutti instrumentation supports the bubbling radiance of the thematic material. The subdued middle section (marked moins vif) features the warmth of the violin and haunting brassy timbre of the muted horn.

Alexander Glazunov was himself a horn player, having played in several orchestras as a student. His Reverie for horn and piano, published in 1890, shows off the melodic qualities of the instrument in a highly Romantic style. A somewhat later work by another Russian composer, Reinhold Glière, is the Intermezzo, Op. 35. Another expressive Romantic work, the Intermezzo was written in 1908 as part of a set of 11 pieces for various solo instruments with piano.

The first of many chamber works Amy Beach composed featuring violin and piano, the Romance, Op. 23 explores the extremes of the violin's range and dynamic potential within an expressive, late-Romantic idiom. The opening piano introduction immediately betrays the influence of Brahms with its layered contrapuntal texture.

He has performed on alto horn with the Jack Daniels Silver Cornet Band and the Southern Stars Symphonic Brass Band. He has worked as a session player in Nashville, recording for publishing companies and on soundtracks for movies and video games.

Andrew Uhe is the Visiting Instructor of Violin at The University of the South in Sewanee. He is an active orchestral and chamber musician in Atlanta and the surrounding region. He has performed with the Atlanta Ballet, the Asheville Symphony, the Huntsville Symphony Orchestra, and others. He performs actively as a chamber musician and appears regularly in the popular Candlelight Concerts by Fever. Mr. Uhe is also an advocate for new music having performed many chamber music premieres. He recently joined the Atlanta-based new music ensemble Chamber Cartel, which performs actively in new music festivals and concert series including Atlanta's celebrated SoundNow new music festival.

Andrew holds degrees in music performance from Grand Valley State University (B.A.) and Ohio University (M.M.). Currently, he is completing his dissertation at the University of Iowa (DMA abd). His primary teachers include Eric Tanner, Ariana Bronne, Marjorie Bagley, and Katie Wolfe.

Yu-Han Kuan, a native of Taiwan, is a solo pianist, chamber music artist, and piano pedagogue. She has performed throughout the United States and Asia as a piano soloist and chamber artist. Dr. Kuan earned her master's degree from the Cleveland Institute of Music in Piano Performance, and her doctoral degree from The University of Iowa in Piano Performance and Pedagogy, where she was a pupil of pianist Dr. Uriel Tsachor. Kuan won the position of principal pianist at Des Moines Symphony Orchestra in Iowa in 2016. As a piano pedagogue. Kuan gave piano pedagogy lectures "The Art of Zen and Piano Performance and Pedagogy" series at the Drake University, IA, the University of Evansville Music Conservatory, IN, and Greater Evansville Music Teachers' Association, IN in 2021 to 2022. She is currently the president of Greater Evansville Music Teachers' Association since 2022. Kuan served as a faculty member of the music department at Vincennes University in 2023.

In general, the lyrical piano writing and continuous melodic interplay between piano and violin make this work true chamber music and not a violin piece with piano accompaniment. The abundant expressive indications and frequent fluctuations in tempo heighten the work's sense of urgency and test the performers' ensemble abilities. Written for and dedicated to the famed American violinist, Maud Powell, Amy Beach premiered the work with Maud at the 1893 World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago.

While the combination of horn, piano, and violin may seem unlikely for the intimate setting of chamber music, Johannes Brahms clearly recognized its potential as one can observe in the musical breadth and emotional depth of his Trio for Violin, Horn, and Piano, Op. 40. Brahms' decision to write for this combination seems quite natural considering his childhood study of horn, cello, and piano. Additionally, his first documented public performance—at the age of 10—featured two chamber works combining piano with either strings or wind instruments: Beethoven's Op. 16 quintet for piano and winds and one of Mozart's glorious piano quartets. Upon further exploration, one also finds a couple examples for the same instrumentation (horn, violin, and piano) by earlier composers whose works Brahms may have known—especially a trio by the Czech pianist Carl Czerny who was a pupil of Beethoven and teacher to Franz Liszt.

Brahms composed the horn trio at the tail end of a productive period during which he wrote both string sextets, the piano quintet, and his first two piano quartets. Written in 1865, the trio serves as a musical commemoration of Brahms' mother, Christiane, who passed away earlier the same year. The slow first movement immediately establishes the work as one of genuine sincerity and natural beauty with a theme Brahms first conceived while walking through the woods. The unsettling tempo changes and dynamic swells of the second theme seem to evoke emotional turmoil and anguish, though the movement concludes with a final return to E-flat Major and a nostalgic presentation of material from the opening theme underscored by references to the brooding second theme. While a scherzo movement typically appears as a third movement in similar four-movement works, the light Scherzo of the horn trio appears as the second movement providing some emotional relief from the weight of the first and third movements, offering an alternation of slow and fast movements throughout the work (Slow-Fast-Slow-Fast), and allowing space for the heavy third movement at the heart of the work. Words cannot capture the depth and pain contained within the slow third movement, which stands among Brahms' most profound and somber musical contributions. Near the end of the movement and before the final fortissimo climax one hears two delicate statements—first in E-flat Major and again in F Major—of a hope-filled melody that emerges like sunshine from dark clouds. This melody becomes the main theme of the fourth and final movement—a lively and brilliant Allegro that concludes the work without a return to the darkness and turmoil of the preceding movements.

- VIII. "Louange à l'Immortalité de Jésus"

Jack Bogard, violin
Charles du Preez, clarinet
Graham Cullen, cello
Tom Drury, piano

As written by Messiaen of each movement:

- I. "Liturgie de cristal"
(Crystal liturgy)

Between three and four in the morning, the awakening of birds: a solo blackbird or nightingale improvises, surrounded by a shimmer of sound, by a halo of trills lost very high in the trees. Transpose this onto a religious plane and you have the harmonious silence of Heaven.

- II "Vocalise, pour l'Ange qui annonce la fin du temps"
(Vocalise, for the Angel who announces the end of time)

The first and third parts (very short) evoke the power of this mighty angel, a rainbow upon his head and clothed with a cloud, who sets one foot on the sea and one foot on the earth. In the middle section are the impalpable harmonies of heaven. In the piano, sweet cascades of blue-orange chords, enclosing in their distant chimes the almost plainchant song of the violin and cello.

III. "Abîme des oiseaux"
(Abyss of birds)

The abyss is Time with its sadness, its weariness. The birds are the opposite to Time; they are our desire for light, for stars, for rainbows, and for jubilant songs.

IV. "Intermède"
(Interlude)

Scherzo, of a more individual character than the other movements, but linked to them nevertheless by certain melodic collections.

V. "Louange à l'Éternité de Jésus"
(Praise to the eternity of Jesus)

Jesus is considered here as the Word. A broad phrase, "infinitely slow", on the cello, magnifies with love and reverence the eternity of the Word, powerful and gentle, "whose time never runs out". The melody stretches majestically into a kind of gentle, regal distance. "In the beginning was the Word, and Word was with God, and the Word was God." (John 1:1 (King James Version))

VI. "Danse de la fureur, pour les sept trompettes"
(Dance of fury, for the seven trumpets)

Rhythmically, the most characteristic piece of the series. The four instruments in unison imitate gongs and trumpets (the first six trumpets of the Apocalypse followed by various disasters, the trumpet of the seventh angel announcing consummation of the mystery of God) Use of added values, of augmented or diminished rhythms, of non-retrogradable rhythms. Music of stone, formidable granite sound; irresistible movement of steel, huge blocks of purple rage, icy drunkenness. Listen especially to all the terrible fortissimo of the augmentation of the theme and changes of register of its different notes, towards the end of the piece.

VII. "Fouillis d'arcs-en-ciel, pour l'Ange qui annonce la fin du temps"
(Tangle of rainbows, for the Angel who announces the end of time)

Recurring here are certain passages from the second movement. The angel appears in full force, especially the rainbow that covers him (the rainbow, symbol of peace, wisdom, and all luminescent and sonorous vibration). – In my dreams, I hear and see ordered chords and melodies, known colors and shapes; then, after this transitional stage, I pass through the unreal and suffer, with ecstasy, a tournament; a roundabout co-penetration of superhuman sounds and colors. These swords of fire, this blue-orange lava, these sudden stars: there is the tangle, there are the rainbows!

VIII. "Louange à l'Immortalité de Jésus"
(Praise to the immortality of Jesus)

Large violin solo, counterpart to the violoncello solo of the 5th movement. Why this second eulogy? It is especially aimed at the second aspect of Jesus, Jesus the Man, the Word made flesh, immortally risen for our communication of his life. It is all love. Its slow ascent to the acutely extreme is the ascent of man to his god, the child of God to his Father, the being made divine towards Paradise.

TRANSLATIONS (original texts in Latin and German)

Exultate Justi

Rejoice in the Lord, for it is right to praise Him. Give praise to God upon the harp; upon the psaltery of ten strings play to Him. Sing to Him a new song with a strong voice.

Sicut Cervus

As the deer longs for streams of fresh water, so my soul longs, O God, for thee.

Vidi Aquam

I saw water flowing from the right side of the temple; and all who came to this water were saved, and said "Alleluia!"

Pater Noster

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. Amen

Wie der Hirsch schreit

1. Chorus "Wie der Hirsch schreit"

As the deer longs for streams of fresh water, so my soul longs, O God, for thee.

2. Aria "Meine Seele dürstet"

My soul thirsts for God, for the living God. When will I come to the place to behold His visage?

3. Recitative "Meine Tränen"

My tears are my food, day and night, while daily they ask me: "Where, now, is your God?"
When I look inside myself, I pour out my heart in my solitude.

Aria and Chorus "Denn ich wollte gern hingehen"

For I would gladly go with the company of people to the House of God, with rejoicing and thanksgiving among all those who celebrate there.

4. Chorus "Was betrübst du dich Meine Seele"

Why are you troubled, my soul, and why are you so restless in me?
Wait for God! For I will yet thank him, his visage and presence brings me aid.

5. Recitative "Mein Gott, betrübt ist meine Seele"

My God, my soul is restless within me, for I remember you! Your streams of water rush and roar; The waves surge and your waters flow over me.

6. Quintet "Der Herr hat des Tages"

By day the Lord has assured me of his loving mercy, and by night I sing to Him, and I worship the God of life. My God, my soul is restless within me; why have you forgotten me?
Why must I go forth in despair when my enemy oppresses me?

7. Chorus "Was betrübst du dich Meine Seele"

Why are you troubled, my soul, and why are you so restless in me? Wait for God! For I will yet thank him, his visage and presence brings me aid. Praise be to the Lord, the God of Israel, from now for evermore.

PERFORMERS

Jeremiah Angel is a senior Music Education and Music Performance double major from Evansville, Indiana. He has been studying under the direction of Gregory Rike, DMA, and in these past four years, he has had the opportunity to perform in the Schmidt Opera Series directed by Alanna Keenan, DMA, and the Evansville University Choir for seven semesters. Jeremiah has competed in the annual Vukovich Concerto Competition, being chosen as an honorable mention twice. He has also performed three recitals and many community outreach performances on behalf of the UE Music Conservatory. This spring, Angel was accepted into the Indiana University Jacobs School of Music and intends to further his education with a master's degree in Vocal Performance.

A versatile musician, Justin Leary strives for excellence and is always looking to improve. He quickly developed his technique as a bassoonist since he began taking private lessons in 2019. Within a year of lessons, Leary became the principal bassoon of the Evansville Philharmonic Youth Orchestra and was awarded the Wesley Shepherd Youth Artist Performance Award by the Evansville Symphonic Band. In 2020, he became the first student in Gibson Southern High School history to be selected into the All-State Orchestra and All-State Band in the same year. In 2023, he won the University of Evansville Vukovich Concerto Competition. Leary has been active during his time at UE, where he has been the principal bassoon in the UE Symphony Orchestra and the first bassoon in the UE Wind Ensemble since his freshman year. Additionally, he has performed with the University Choir, Jazz Ensemble, and Athletic Band. Leary has had numerous professional opportunities. Since 2021, he has played bassoon in the Evansville Symphonic Band where he plays alongside the finest musicians in the area. He has performed in the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia National Wind Ensemble in St. Louis, Missouri; ballet productions at the Victory Theater in Evansville, Indiana; and jazz ensembles in the streets of New Orleans, Louisiana. He will complete his Bachelor of Science in Music at the University of Evansville in Spring 2024 where he has been studying under Edwin Lacy, DMus. Starting in the fall, Leary will pursue his Master of Music in Bassoon Performance at the IU Jacobs School of Music.

Luke Robertson is a Music Education major from Newburgh, Indiana. He will graduate in Spring 2024 after completing major instrument requirements for both piano and saxophone, a Spanish minor, and a certificate in Jazz Studies. His primary teachers are Anne Fiedler, MMus, and Edwin Lacy, DMus. In 2022, Robertson was named an Honorable Mention in the Vukovich Concerto Competition on piano, and in 2023 he received the same honor on saxophone. TRANSLATIONS

Mein

Brook, cease your babbling!
Wheels, stop your roaring!
All you merry wood birds
great and small,
end your warbling!
Throughout the wood,
within it, and beyond,
let one rhyme alone ring out today:
my beloved, the maid of the mill, is mine!
Mine!
Spring, are these all of your flowers?
Sun, do you have no brighter light?
Ah, then I must remain all alone
with that blissful word of mine,
understood nowhere in the whole of creation.

Il mio tesoro

To my beloved, o hasten,
To comfort, to comfort her sad heart.
Sweet are the tears that chasten,
Yet grieve not those who part.
Tell her, to see her righted,
Ne'er will I cease pursuing,
My sword and faith I've plighted.
Nought may resolve shall thwart.

Im wunderschönen Monat Mai

In the wondrous month of May,
When all the buds burst into bloom,
Then it was that in my heart
Love began to burgeon.
In the wondrous month of May,
When all the birds were singing,
Then it was I confessed to her
My longing and desire.

Aus meinen Tränen sprießen

From my tears there will spring
Many blossoming flowers,
And my sighs shall become
A chorus of nightingales.
And if you love me, child,
I'll give you all the flowers,
And at your window shall sound
The nightingale's song.

Die Rose, die Lilie, die Taube, Die Sonne

Rose, lily, dove, sun,
I loved them all once in the bliss of love.
I love them no more, I only love
She who is small, fine, pure, rare;
She, most blissful of all loves,
Is rose and lily and dove and sun.

Wenn ich in deine Augen seh'

When I look into your eyes,
All my pain and sorrow vanish;
But when I kiss your lips,
Then I am wholly healed.
When I lay my head against your breast,
Heavenly bliss steals over me;
But when you say: I love you!
I must weep bitter tears.
